1. During the second half of April 1955, the Korneuburg Shipyards finished the construction of sea-going barges Nos 1051 and 1052. Three other sea-going barges of the same type were still under construction.
2. As of 28 April, another floating pile driver was under construction at the Korneuburg Shipyards for delivery to the Soviet Union. During 1954, 10 of these pile drivers had been shipped to the USSR. They have a floating base 18 by 35 feet and are equipped with steam and electrical engines.
3. Copies of two photographs showing the barge and the pile driver referred to above are available from CIA Graphics Register.
